Advisory Bulletin: Coronavirus Statement

De Soto, KS – Custom Foods, Inc. released the following advisory bulletin today:

Coronavirus Statement

Custom Foods, Inc. shares global concerns over the spread and impact on public health of coronavirus (2019-nCoV). We take our responsibility to our employees and our customers we serve very seriously and continue to follow the advice of public health organizations.

Custom Foods, Inc. does not anticipate any supply chain interruptions; however, we have contingencies in place for alternate sources of raw materials to ensure continuous production. While we cannot currently predict the duration and/or the impact of the coronavirus, we remain extremely vigilant and are closely monitoring the situation daily.

For more information, the coronavirus as it relates to the food industry, visit <https://www.fmi.org/food-safety/coronavirus>
